I want to thank each and everyone of you who gave me your vote in the recent election. I lost but my econscience is clear for I ran a clean race, I did nothing to harm anyone, therefore I have nothing to worry about. You who voted for me were indeed my friends. Won't you always be fair, holding up the moral of our country which is helping to hold up Christ instead of crucifying him. This makes America a better place to live.
